

Contribute to Hearth Letter

Mary G.L. Shackelford, Editor

Thank you for your interest in contributing to Hearth Letter!

Hearth Letter is a forum for different voices within Red Lodge, and all articles are subject to editing for the overall creative vision of design, layout and content. A high value is placed on quality visual images, and it is extremely helpful if each article is accompanied by several good photographs (high resolution jpg) from which to choose. At this time, there is no hard and fast guideline for word count; we are open to creative expression, and we want to make Hearth Letter manageable, succinct, accessible and inviting to busy people with many things calling for their attention.

We publish four seasonal issues, coming out around the Equinoxes and the Solstices. Publication announcements linking to a single pdf go out to members and subscribers. Hearth Letters are also posted and archived on the website.

Schedule:

Spring Hearth Letter	deadline March 5
Summer Hearth Letter	deadline June 5
Fall Hearth Letter	deadline September 5
Winter Hearth Letter	deadline December 5

Please send writing as MS Word documents attached to email.
